Middle School-Aged Students and Conflict

Dear Families,

Please read the attached document in the email about middle school-aged students and conflict, a time when big emotions, new relationships, different perspectives, and varying values can make navigating friendships and disagreements especially challenging. As students grow and discover more about themselves and others, they often need guidance and support to work through these experiences, communicate effectively, and build empathy and understanding. Together, we can help our students navigate conflict with confidence, compassion, and the skills they need to build healthy relationships.

EMMSOTA Arts in Focus

This October, the whole school had the opportunity to visit the Vancouver Art Gallery. Students explored the connections between art, the natural environment and our changing world. We focused on two exhibits. That Green Ideal: Emily Carr and the Idea of Nature, where students viewed the artist's tree portraits and examined her use of rich colour and bold shapes depicting BC's unique natural beauty. Future Geographies, Art in the Age of Climate Change, exhibited several artists' works using everyday materials that may have otherwise been destined for the landfill. We hope that this experience reinforces students' art appreciation and inspires their own creative endeavours!
